Welcome

On behalf of the Kootenai Health Foundation Board of Directors, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 34th annual Festival of Trees. What an exciting time to be back together in person and to gather to support such an important need.

We are deeply grateful for how this community has come together each year in support of the hospital and the Kootenai Health employees. The team of Healthcare Heroes who work here and provide care for those in need are the heart of the Kootenai Health family. The daily dedication they demonstrate in their work and the care they provide to our community has been remarkable, and your support is very meaningful to them.

The proceeds of this year's event will support the Kootenai Heart Center expansion project. When completed, the expansion will help us continue to provide excellent cardiovascular care to all of northern Idaho. With your generous help, we can do great things together for the health of our community. Thank you for your ongoing support for Kootenai Health and we wish you happy holidays and a healthy New Year!

*W*elcome back! We are so grateful to each of you for your support the past two years when our Festival of Trees went virtual. We are extremely pleased to be together in person again.

As we enter this season of giving, we want to take a moment to appreciate all this community has done for Kootenai Health and the dedicated staff who work here. The past few years have been difficult, and your support and encouragement have been so meaningful to our Healthcare Heroes.

When we think of community, we think of a place where we are safe, taken care of and have the resources to thrive. We think about friends, neighbors and family. It is appropriate that this year's Festival of Trees is raising funds to support the Heart Center expansion, because in so many ways, Kootenai Health is the heart of this community.

In early the 2000s, generous donations to the Kootenai Health Foundation helped provide the funding needed to build a state-of-the-art Heart Center to serve patients in northern Idaho. Their gifts made sure help has been rapidly available to all who need it in the years since. It is our goal to make sure the Heart Center has the capacity to meet the growing need in our community. Twenty years ago, the generous members of our community helped make the original heart center a reality. Now it's our turn.

Your generosity tonight will help Kootenai Health expand the Heart Center to ensure ready, rapid care is available even as our population grows. With your help, Kootenai Health will be able to add ten new patient rooms for a total of 24. It will also add a second cardiac catheterization lab and a second electrophysiology lab to help more patients. Your support will help provide greater access to excellent care and specialized services close to home. Tonight, you have the chance to contribute to the expansion of life-saving resources for patients in our community. That life saved may very well be a friend, neighbor or family member.

Thank you for continuing to support the heart of the community and best wishes as we enter 2023.

Nordic Christmas

Designed & Decorated by: Virginia Grob, Tina Batha, Roy Cullen, and Gina Todd

Celebrate Christmas through Scandinavian tradition and design. Hygge (pronounced hoogah) is a Scandinavian Lifestyle that promotes simplicity, comfort and coziness. Nordic winters are often harsh with limited daylight hours, so many people decorate their homes in light colors, and furnish them with warm and comfortable materials in order to brighten their environment. Natural materials are common in both Scandinavian home design and holiday décor. Trees are often adorned with straw ornaments, animals and décor that help warm up the room. Time with family and friends is integral to Scandinavian holiday tradition, whether through food or curling up next to a fire together. In Iceland, it is tradition for each family member to receive a new book on Christmas Eve. The family then spends the evening together reading. This Icelandic tradition is called, “Bookafloð” and literally translates to, “flood of books.”

It is our sincere hope, that your holiday season is filled with warmth, joy and fond memories as we attempt to capture the spirit of a Nordic Christmas. Fill your winter with a Spokane Chiefs Game through four red level tickets generously provided by the team, and hone your own skating skills through two Learn to Skate Packages donated by Lake City Figure Skating. If you prefer to cozy up indoors, curl up with a good book from the Well Read Moose. The Rustic Edge of McCall, Idaho has provided a custom, handmade wooden centerpiece, stool and Milkhouse Candles with which to decorate your own home. If you like the vintage and unique, a one of a kind vintage snowshoe end table from Ironstone Furniture and Fire is sure to catch your eye. Once the weather warms up, enjoy a three night stay, half day chartered fishing trip for two in Vancouver, British Columbia and bring your own fish home. This and so much more await you as you celebrate the holiday season.

The She Built Mission is to support workforce development initiatives in home building by generating awareness of the skilled trades in the largest underrepresented community. To accomplish this, we have three areas of focus...

- Workforce Development – The House that She Built is a long-term sustainable solution to the national labor shortage by changing the perception of career-based bias by getting in front of students, teachers, educators before that bias is formed, shifting the mindset that one path is better than another, refreshing the unfavorable/stereotypical image of specific jobs, recruiting future workers through the most obvious underrepresented community...Women!
- Women in Construction – The House that She Built elevates women in the trades (less than 3% of workers) to show girls they CAN do anything.
- Diversity, Equity & Inclusion – The House that She Built visually shows that careers in construction are for everyone! #shebuiltbook #careersinconstruction Inspired by a true story! The House That She Built, written by Mollie Elkman and illustrated by Georgia Castellano, is a best-selling children's book with supporting curriculum, activities, and programming that has sparked an international movement!
